Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTIONInformation Disclosure Statement

The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Datta et al. (4,801,494). Datta discloses the claimed invention with the exception of a dark colored topsheet.

Datta discloses an absorbent pad comprising an absorbent 30 and a permeable cover 10, as shown in figure 2. The cover 10 is formed from a fibrous material, the fiber being provided with a colorant, as described in column 3, lines 39-48. The colors disclosed by Datta are pastels such as peach and pink, but examples 1-5 show these relatively light colors as effectively masking stains caused by blood and discharge.

Art Unit: 3761

The light colors disclosed by Datta effectively perform the same purpose as the dark colors of the claimed invention. It is therefore obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to make the cover 10 of Datta in the colors of the instant invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van Iten et al. (5,188,625). Van Iten discloses the claimed invention with the exception of a dark colored topsheet.

Van Iten discloses a sanitary napkin comprising an absorbent 188, a fluid permeable cover 184, and an impermeable baffle 186, as shown in figure 17. The cover 184 includes two layers, the first of which, layer 192, is comprised of a nonwoven web. This nonwoven web may be colored blue or green, as described in column 11, lines 6-23. The purpose of this is to mask stains caused by menstrual fluids.

The blue and green pigments disclosed by Van Iten effectively perform the same purpose as the dark colors of the claimed invention. It is therefore obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to make the cover 184 of Van Iten in the colors of the instant invention.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to C. Lynne Anderson whose telephone number is (703) 306-5716. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday.
